

Register to use BART

You will need to register to access BART and set your availability and respond to incidents.

On your PC or phone browser go to <https://bart.emerg.com.au/register/> and complete the required fields as displayed in the example to the right.

The BRIGADE/UNIT is a drop down list. Take care to choose Yass Rvr-Nanima RFB (ST) as there are brigades listed from Across Australia including Yass Support.

The TYPE will auto populate depending on your choice of brigade.

Enter 'Firefighter' in the POSITION field unless you have a particular role in the brigade such as Catering or Deputy.

Enter your mobile [without spaces], and email address.

Enter or 'Paste' the Yass River Pager message as shown on the right. 30 August 2017 17:21:05 GRASS FIRE - RESPOND TO STATION

You can ignore the recent Pager Message image.

Likewise the 'How did you hear about us?' field is optional.

Choose a password with letters and numbers and enter it in the two fields required. Note you will only need to enter the password once when installing the BART phone app.

Tick the 'I'm not a robot' in the stupid Captcha thing. You'll probably have to click on squares with street signs.

Click 'SEND', the brigade secretary will receive your request and providing you're an active member with the brigade, accept your request.

What's next; you will receive a message that you are enrolled in BART. Download the BART app from the Google or iOS shop, or log into www.bart.emerg.com.au/dashboard on your PC.

Now refer to the Setting Availability for Smartphone Users or Setting Availability for non-Smartphone Users documentation. This and other BART tip sheets can be found under the 'Training' tab on the Yass River web site. While there check out the tip sheet; 'BART on a page'.
